Brochure v01 VOX-1927 Booth

Vox booths are good for thinking deep thoughts. But they're also good for awkward phone calls and covert streaming sessions. Now look busy – your boss is watching.

Soundproof – Our booths are engineered for privacy. Soundproof on the inside, beautiful on the outside.

Local – Want to take our booths for a test drive? Vox is 100% owned and operated right here in Australia with all FSC Approved materials.

Tailored – Love us as we are. Or, design something special, depending on your aesthetic.

Comfy and Ventilated – LED lights. Fresh air. And plenty of space to dance...if you so choose. Whisper-quiet fans keep the fresh air circulating. Smart.

Reserve your booth.

This is how we like to do things.

□ 1 Meet and greet

We'll visit your space, get to know your business.

□ 2 Design consultation

A free face-to-face meeting. We want to suck up all the info for your personal design brief.

□ 3 Quote

Once we've finished the brief, we'll run through your quote and make any last minute adjustments.

□ 4 Confirmation

The quote, design brief, timelines and build process are all approved. We just need a 50% deposit to get cracking.

□ 5 Production

Build time is generally six to eight weeks (for up to five booths). We'll keep you up to speed as things progress.

□ 6 Delivery and Installation

The Vox team will deliver and install your booths whenever works best (weekends are generally easier).

□ 7 Handover

There's a two week feedback period for ironing out kinks. We'll also have one last project meeting, to make sure it was love at last sound.

Every Vox brief is slightly different, so we like to keep things flexible. Some clients want booths that'll blend into the background.

Others are looking for a statement booth (the statement usually being, 'Check out my sweet booth').

Our classic one person booth.

Whatever you're looking for, Vox has got your back. Not all booths are created equal. We can whip up something special, depending on your style and space.

"It's a great way to have an impromptu conversation, without needing to book a room."
– Creative Cubes Co.

"We would refer Vox booths to anyone. It's definitely a phone booth solution all venues should explore."
– Gawin Fernando

That's Adam and there's Charlie.

Vox is the brainchild of local tradies (and best mates) Adam Valastro and Charlie Dickson.

The guys saw a boxed-shaped opportunity. High-quality, beautifully designed phone-booths. A place for deep-thoughts and serious output. But also somewhere for awkward phone calls and covert streaming sessions.

The crew at Vox believe that work should be more than a job and that environment is key. We'll continue pushing ourselves and the projects we're involved with to make this whole 'future of work' stuff, happen now.

Don't believe we're full of energy? Just ask for a coffee with Adam.
